Facts About Carlton's Quality and Dependability

Every workman is especially trained for his work in growing, handling, grading or packing for shipment, and each operation receives personal supervision.

All Carlton trees are pruned, trained and shaped in the nursery row. Most varieties of Fruit trees are topped at the proper height for branching, thereby developing a uniform, branched top in the nursery row. We are the only nursery on the West Coast offering this high quality type of tree, which gives the planter the thrift of a yearling and the quality and size of a two-year tree.

All tree varieties are carefully marked in the field with true name and registration number. Field charts are carefully checked and recorded, and all registration numbers are available to the planter on request. Carlton trees are not only true-to-name, but the strains are better.

All crooked and inferior trees are discarded and only first quality trees are sold.

You'll Grow Better and More Fruit with Carlton Trees.
